

Friday 17 March 2017

This event will display the diverse research topics currently being explored at the Graduate School of Education in the University of Exeter, bringing together postgraduate students, new researchers, academics and leading practitioners.

Come along to..

Share research interests within a climate of open inquiry

Join in lively exchange and critical debate

Disseminate your research and receive helpful feedback

Be an active part of our GSE research community and Enjoy the wonderful international culture of our School!

Students and academics at GSE, or in Education departments at one of the G4 Universities (Bath, Bristol, Cardiff)

Please see our Call for Papers if you would like to Present a Paper at the conference or to enter our Poster Competition!

Not yet a postgraduate student? We warmly welcome current or prospective students from outside of the Graduate School of Education and University of Exeter to attend (not present at) this event. In recent years many prospective students (for EdD, PhD, Med and MSc programmes) have found this a useful 'taster day' event, offering an insight into the programmes, course expectations and activities, as well as the wider research practice and culture in the School of Education.

Schools and Colleges! Come and listen to talks on current educational current research, network with professionals from other schools, universities and partner organisations, and contribute to your CPD.

This event is FREE to attend, but pre-registration is required.
Conference certificates will be provided for all presenters and attendees.

Please email ssis-gse-conference@exeter.ac.uk, to register your interest in attending or to find out more
